THE
1943
MESSENGER

HIGH SCHOOL

We,
the members of the
nineteen hundred and forty-three, dedicate
this
MESSENGER
to the Durham High School boys who are in the ARMED FORCES

 This is our war! When the call came to all American citizens asking for their united support of our country at war the youth of the nation answered the call by pledging their effort toward helping win Victory and World Peace.

 Our school activities and the curriculum have shown the effect of the all-out-for-war program. Our students have made valuable contribution by uniting to help win the war.

 The class of 1943 recognizes this spirit of united effort, and in the following pages presents a panoramic view of the services and activities engaged in by the students and teachers of Durham High School.

 When this world crisis has become past history, may each one of you in reviewing these pages be proud of the part you played in this war. For the present may each one of you be inspired toward greater effort.

MISS LELLA HAMPTON

DIED MARCH 26, 1943

"True woman was she day by day
In suffering, toil, and victory.
Her life, made holy and serene
By faith, was hid with things unseen.
She knew what they alone can know
Who live above but dwell below."

Jake Woodall, President; Margaret Lawrence, Secretary; Bobby Branch, Treasurer; H. D. Sykes, Vice-President.

Senior Class

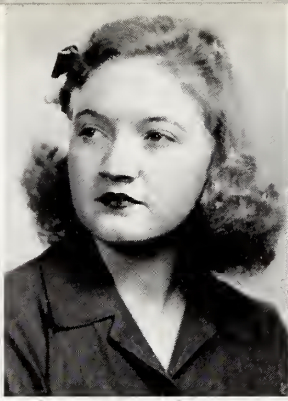

Of all the classes in the school, the Senior Class has felt most keenly the effect of the war, as many of its members have been called into the armed forces or have joined accelerated classes at college.

The officers for the year were: President, Jake Woodall; Vice-President, H. D. Sykes; Secretary, Margaret Lawrence; and Treasurer, Johnny Duhling. When Johnny Duhling joined the armed forces, Bobby Branch was elected to fill his position as Treasurer.

The Junior Class, in decorating for the Junior-Senior Social, used patriotism as its theme. The gymnasium was decorated with national colors and flags. Betsy Buchanan was crowned as the first "queen of the ball" at Durham High. The seniors thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment provided by the Junior class.

As a tribute to Herbert Long, Oxford Orphanage student, who died last fall, the class of '43 voted to present a plaque to the Oxford Orphanage as the traditional senior gift. The plaque, which will be divided into two sections, will have a memorial to Herbert Long on the top and the bottom will be a blank space. Each year the most outstanding athlete, chosen by the students, will have his name inscribed on the plaque. The plaque is to be presented to Oxford Orphanage at the close of this school year.

Junior Class

This year's Junior Class has been strictly war-minded in all its efforts. As their opening campaign, the class started a drive to increase the amount of scrap metal turned in and to make Durham High School become aware of the fact that the older boys would soon be in the service.

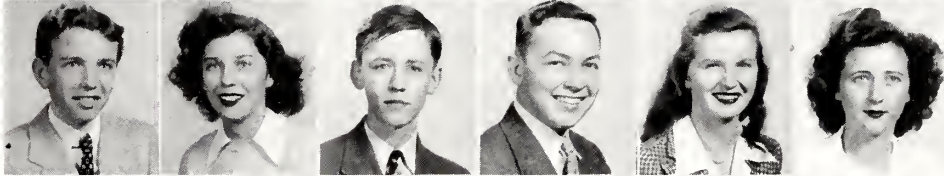

Their main project of the year was the presentation of a vaudeville show, which was presented before a packed house. The purpose of this show was to raise money for the Junior-Senior Social which was held on April 2. Betsy Buchanan had the honor of being crowned the queen of the ball and she also received a loving cup to commemorate the occasion. The social closed a highly successful year in the history of the class of '44.

Sophomore Class

George Grantham, President of the Sophomore Class, appointed a committee consisting of Jimmy Cobb, chairman, Al Nelson and Dot Dezern, to take charge of business concerning the $100 war bond the class is going to purchase for the school.

Our class was congratulated by Mr. Holton,

Friday, December 5, 1942, on having the best percentage of honor rolls within ten years.

Another committee, consisting of Bradley Henderson, chairman, Wade Isaacs and Al Nelson, was appointed by President George Grantham to be in charge of inquiring about a plaque (for our boys in service) which is to be purchased with the $100 war bond.

Activities

Durham High School

Student Council

OFFICERS: Anne Stapleford, Secretary; Ralph Rogers, President; Donald Ross, Vice-President; Robert Hazel, Treasurer.

Adviser: MRS. MARGARET S. RICHARDSON

To help students appreciate the blessings of self-government, and by actual participation to teach them the responsibilities and duties of citizens in a democracy, are the aims of the Student Council.

Representatives from the twenty-nine home rooms, the class presidents, and the Council officers meet bi-monthly to discuss problems for the betterment of the school. The duties of these representatives are to bring problems before the Council and take the discussions back to their home rooms.

Under an amendment to the constitution of the Council, the elections of the sophomore, junior, and senior class officers, as well as the Council officers, are supervised by the Council.

Among the projects of the group this year were: helping with the annual Hi-Rocket Athletic drive; improving the hall patrol; supervising the lunch line; handling lost and found articles; giving medals to the two most valuable members of hall patrol; and building an obstacle course. The Council was represented by Mrs. H. W. Richardson, Council adviser, Ralph Rogers, president of the Student Council, Charlie Brewer, and Anne Swindell at the North Carolina Student Council conference in Rocky Mount. The gathering was held so that the various schools in the state might have the opportunity to exchange ideas beneficial to each other.

The Messenger Staff

Beatrice Harris, Business Manager

Frances Airheart, Editor-in-Chief

Advisers: MARGARET S. RICHARDSON, WILLIS G. WHICHARD

The MESSENGER Staff this year is striving to show the role of Durham High School in defense and war work.

The theme, student activities in and out of school, makes this book especially dear to those who are Seniors. For many this is the last formal school they will ever attend, as they will soon be in Uncle Sam's Army. Those who are departing from these school rooms and the familiar faces of friends and teachers, will cherish this book in years to come as they turn back over the pages which bring back old memories.

Due to wartime difficulties, this 1943 MESSENGER is the best product available. The school's part in defense has been stressed to show how deeply the war has affected all its activities.

We of the MESSENGER Staff sincerely hope that you like our publication. Your judgment shall decide its fate—whether it shall be a success or a failure.

The Hi-Rocket Staff

Betty Rezner, Editor Ralph Rogers, Business Manager

Adviser: MISS MARGUERITE HERR

The Hi-Rocket, like thousands of other high-school newspaper members of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, responded to the appeal of the United States government to use the publication as an active agent for promoting the war effort effectively in the school community.

Realizing the need of a continuation of normal educational activities in direct relation to the war effort, the 1942-43 Hi-Rocket retained its coverage of school activities, and enlarged its scope to include all phases of war service in which students are participating. The Hi-Rocket has published authentic information essential for individuals and groups; it has explained by pen and picture new courses and activities besides those readapted to timely work; and it has featured the unusual in achievement by students, teachers, and alumni in service. This year's staff has endeavored to vary the make-up and types of articles, making each new issue contain something vastly different from the last.

Keeping in step with national rationing of paper and meeting the increased cost of printing, the 1942-43 Hi-Rocket curtailed its regular 18 issues to publish only a round dozen. By this sacrifice of quantity the staff has managed to maintain the quality of the publication in keeping with the journalistic standards of former years.

When John Kerr III, editor-in-chief, left for the University of North Carolina to enter the Naval Reserve, the editorship of the 1943 Hi-Rocket was assumed by Betty Rezner, former managing editor, while Ralph Rogers, capable business manager, continued in this capacity.

An interview with Wendell Wilkie, 1940 Republican candidate for president, highlighted the host of interviews with famous people presented in the paper this year. Betty Rezner, editor, Carolyn Hooper, and Barbara Barnes were invited to the press conference for Mr. Wilkie at Duke University.

The Hi-Rocket was again awarded the gold medal and, in addition, a Victory star for outstanding war effort and All-Columbian honors at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association annual contest.

Band

Director: ROBERT G. SIMMONS

The State Music Contest was called off so the D. H. S. Band did not enter this year. However, it was always on hand to present programs for patriotic meetings.

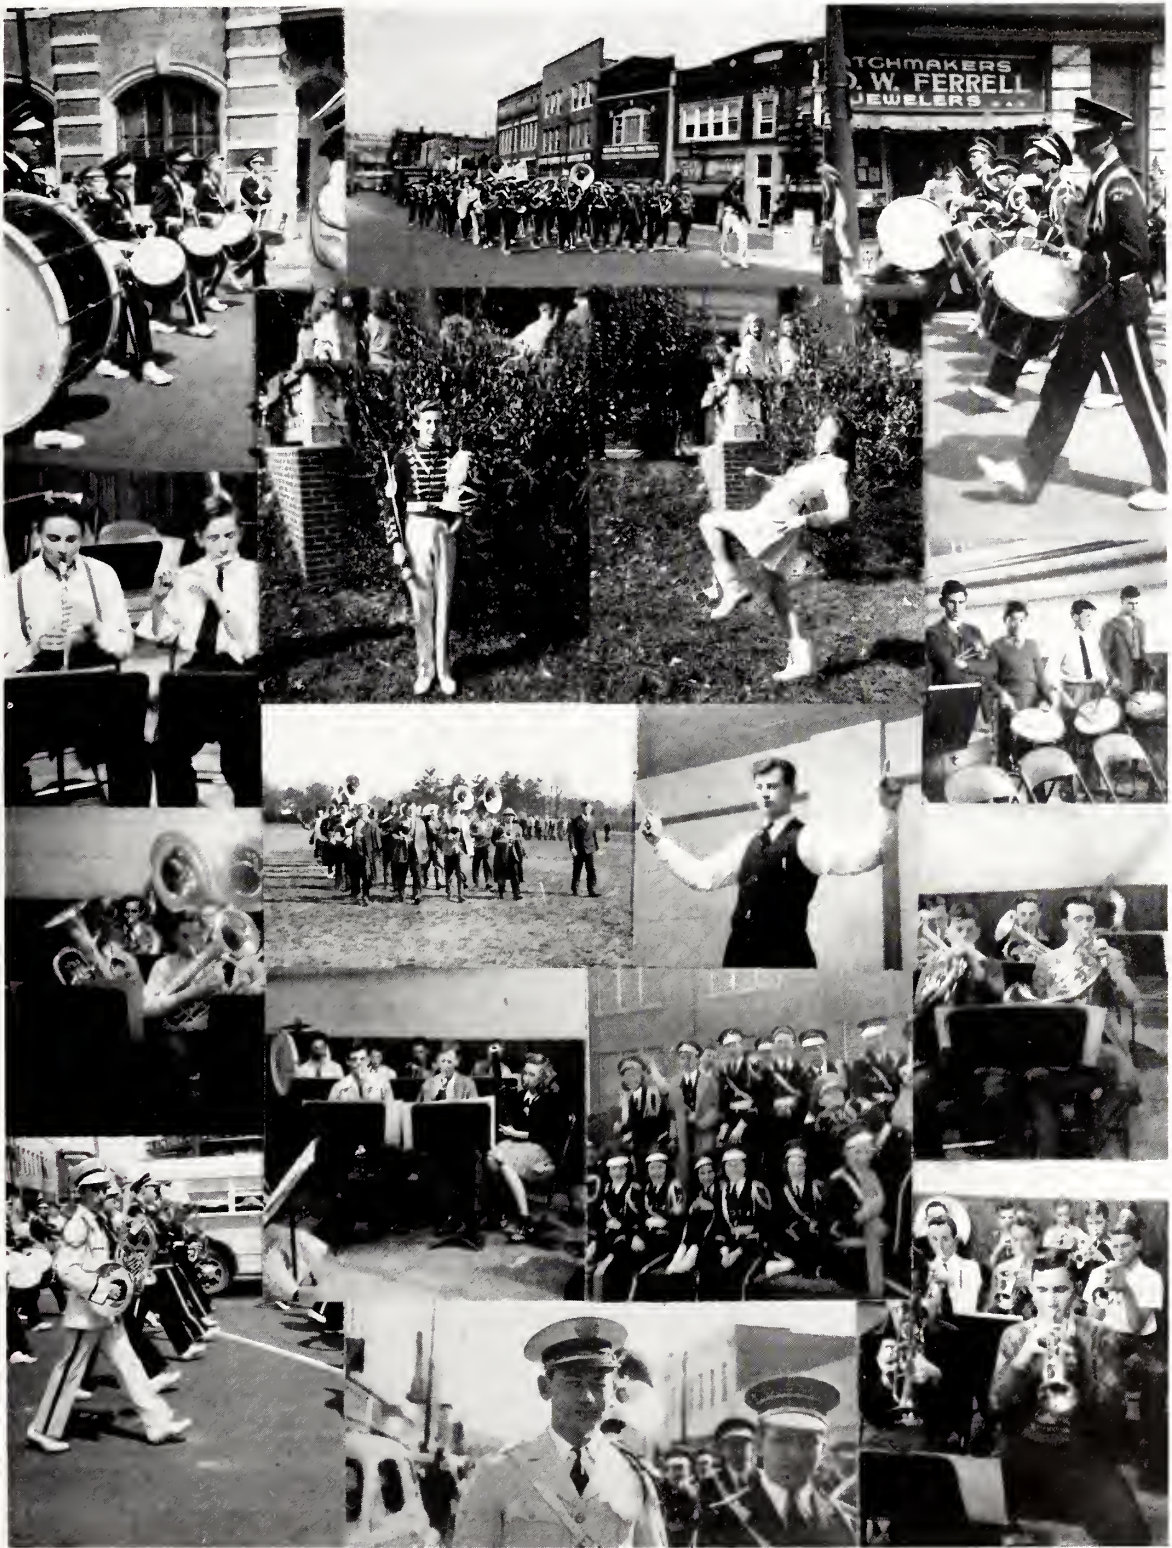

The band is under the direction of Robert Simmons, and has had a most successful year. Because of the variety and popularity of the numbers played the many concerts given have been greatly enjoyed.

A newly installed "Military System" was a success under the following officers: Captain, Don Ross; First Lieutenant, George Miller; Second Lieutenant, Donald Adeock; Sergeants, Rhodes Lupton, Bill Hamilton, Clifford Shank, Ray Harden; Corporals, Ben Gunter, Bill O'Briant, Aubrey Todd, Emma Lee Holloman, Frankie Webster, and Henry Lloyd.

Mixed Chorus

Director: W. P. TWADDELL

The Halls of D. H. S. now ring more than ever with the voices of "Fessor's" chorus, although, due to the war, the outside activities of this group have been cut down.

The new songs that were learned this year lean towards a military air, and as the chorus appeared at the civic clubs in town, the "Star Spangled Banner" rose out over the heads of the listeners.

Instead of the Christmas Carol Service, usually held at the First Baptist Church, the chorus went to the radio station, where recordings were made to be broadcast to their regular listeners. This was due to transportation difficulties.

War or no war, we can always turn to "Fessor" and the chorus to hear the best of the best.

Adviser: E. C. HESTER

Under the guidance of E. C. Hester, the Photography Club has had a very successful year. At each meeting the members learn something new about photography; how to use their cameras correctly; the various types of films that can be used and the correct method of developing their own film.

The club was completely reorganized in the spring semester.

Mimics Dramatics Club

Adviser: MRS. LOIE CHRISTIE

The competent leaders of the Mimics Dramatics Club this year were Charles Brame, president; Frances Carr, vice-president; Janet Speed, secretary; and Helen Reams, treasurer. However, at the beginning of the second semester Charles left for a dramatic school, with Frances being unanimously elected as president and Charlie Brewer elected to the vice-presidency. Sadly missed, too, was Miss Brown Phillips, adviser, who left for a position in Winston-Salem.

In addition to the regular business each meeting had a program of special entertainment such as interesting talks, and prepared impromptu plays. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors were given an opportunity to show their acting ability, as members from each of these groups presented short plays.

One of the high lights of the year was the presentation of "Five for Bad Luck" with the student body as guests of the club. Members taking part were: Frances Elder, Frank Pierson, Norma York, David Black, Emily Chappell, George Miller, and Bobby Sugg.

Mummers Dramatics Club

First row: E. Boyd, Secretary; J. Topham, Treasurer. Second row, M. L. Weatherly, Vice-President; H. Schroder, President.

Adviser: J. R. WELDON

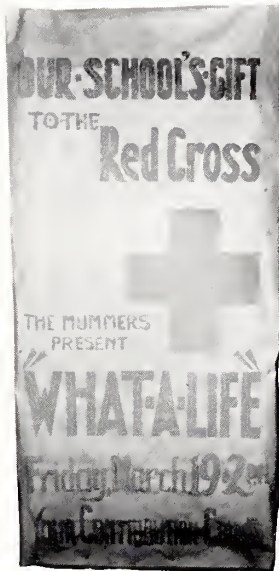

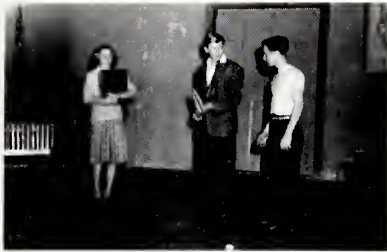

The Mummers began the year under the leadership of Hal Schroder, who served as president; Mary Lou Weatherly, vice-president; Emily Earle Boyd, serving as secretary; and Janet Topham, as treasurer.

The sophomores, at the beginning of the year, became familiar with the principles of acting by presenting impromptu plays before the junior and senior members.

Then, as the Christmas Seal season drew near, a play, "The Best Laid Plans," sponsored by the Durham County Tuberculosis Association, was presented to Durham High students over the public address system and later before the club. Taking part in the play, directed by Gordon Whitted, were Emily Boyd, T. C. Powell, Janet Topham, and George Whitted.

The high light of the year was a play, "What a Life," directed by J. R. Weldon and presented to the Duke Finance School and Camp Butner, with the proceeds going to the United Service Organization. The members participating were Loring Walton as Henry Aldrich; Emily Boyd as Barbara, his girl friend; Hal Schroder as George Bigelow; Bill Griffin as Mr. Bradley; Virginia Cooke as Miss Shea; T. C. Powell as Mr. Nelson; and Francis Morgan, Nancy Parks, Aetna K. Womble, Margaret Crumpler, Ed Upchurch, Nancy Warren, Estelle Rose, Frank Ferguson, Mary Lou Weatherly, Patricia Daney, John Hogan, and Charmain Seates.

"What a Life" contributed fun to school, funds to Red Cross.

The Playmakers

Adviser: MRS. BAMMA RICHMAN

The Durham High Playmakers was one of the latest organizations to join Durham High's extracurricular program.

The club met twice a month, its primary objective being to acquaint each member with the art of acting. In order to accomplish this objective, a short one-act play was presented at each meeting. Although these were not finished productions, they gave each member an opportunity to appear on the program and get the "feel" of an audience.

Although more emphasis was put on acting, other phases of dramatics such as advertising, directing, and backstage work were stressed as being important in the field of dramatics.

In the years to come The Playmakers, under Mrs. Bamma B. Richman's direction, hope to have an even more successful year than their first.

Adviser: MRS. CAROLYN MANN

The Spanish Club, during its second year in Durham High, proved to be an interesting activity to its members. First-year Spanish students accepting an invitation to the Club and the membership of the returning old members gave the Club a roll of about thirty.

Spanish conversations, Spanish music and songs, spelling bees, and talks on Spanish subjects by the members and Mrs. Mann, the new adviser, were the main attractions of the bi-monthly meetings.

A wiener roast in the autumn at the home of Mr. C. R. Baucom, last year's adviser, and a picnic in the spring were some of the high lights of the club's social calendar.

This year, the members of the French Club, Le Cercle Français, came to realize more fully the meaning and the purpose of their club. Apart from participating in the aims of the club—to learn a more fluent speaking knowledge of French and the cultural background of the language—they learned of the French of today from Mr. C. R. Baucom, their new adviser, who has spent some time in France.

Well-planned programs consisted of conversations in French and the publishing of a French newspaper by the members. The club also enjoyed two socials. The first took place in the fall when a picnic was given to acquaint the new adviser and the members with each other. The second picnic was held in the spring of the second semester when new members, who had attained an "A" average on French, were brought in.

Adviser: C. R. BAUCOM

Service to others was the feature of the Hi-Y Club's work this year. Thanksgiving baskets and the annual Christmas toy round-up were overshadowed by the fact that the club sold more than enough war bonds and stamps to buy three army jeeps. The club records show varied programs: representatives sent to the Hi-Y Convention in Rock Hill, South Carolina; the club's only draftee given a happy send-off; and frequent socials. At the end of the year the most outstanding member was presented a jeweled Hi-Y pin.

Phy-Chem Club

Adviser: B. G. STEWART

The Phy-Chem Club, advised by Mr. B. G. Stewart, is made up of those students who take either Physics or Chemistry and are interested in scientific studies beyond the scope of the classroom. The club was organized in 1930, when only seven students, all of whom were boys, answered the call for a science club in the school. In 1939, girls were permitted to join the club. Many interesting programs were given at the meetings this year, consisting of talks and experiments made by the students themselves.

One of the high lights of the year is a social held during the late spring.

Club

This is the twentieth anniversary of the organization of the Commercial Club in Durham High School. The club was organized in 1923 with Mrs. Fannie W. Sykes as president. Each year has brought its success.

The Commercial Club had the privilege of contributing to the war effort by an outstanding piece of work in fuel rationing. The entire commercial department was mobilized into active war work under the direction of the five Commercial teachers, Miss Ethel M. Solloway, Miss Louise Horner, Mrs. Melrose Hefflin, Miss Frances Boland and Mr. Lewis Haynes. They were assisted by a group of capable students from the first and second honor rolls in Durham High School. Twelve thousand applications for fuel rationing were produced and addressed for mailing to the citizens in Durham County.

The officials in charge of this rationing estimated the work as 2400 man hours. Both the students and teachers were glad to serve the war effort in this way.

Due to transportation difficulties, the Coroso play was omitted in this year's program. However, the social, an annual event of the Commercial Club, was held in the cafeteria on February 18. Having enjoyed jig-saw puzzles and group singing, the members were served delicious refreshments.

The Commercial Club has had a highly successful year with dependable officers and teachers of the commercial department always willing to serve.

Club

To be able to stand before an audience of hundreds, speak to them, be one of them by one's manner of speaking, without that frequent feeling that everyone is going to walk upon the stage and bite one, that is just the end toward which the Public Speaking Club, led by their new adviser, Miss Boland, is working. By impromptu speeches, debates, and listening to people with a greater knowledge of public speaking than themselves, this club is certainly creating a fine group of speakers.

Coach: MRS. BELLE C. GHOLSON

Gaining victory after victory, Durham High's affirmative debaters, Robinson Everett and Betty Rezner, advanced to the state tournament at Chapel Hill only to meet defeat at the hands of Dobson.

Freeman Fulbright and Mildred Byers upheld the negative for the 1943 query "Resolved that the Federal government should aid general public school education."

The genial Mrs. Gholson coached both teams in their rapid advance to the last match of North Carolina's debating contest.

Art Club

Adviser: MRS. MARY L. MASON

The Art Club this year has had community projects as well as its bi-monthly meetings in school. At Christmas it arranged the display window at the Durham Public Library and made Christmas tree ornaments for a local charity. It sponsored a chapter of the National Art Honor Society and took time out for social sessions. For those who enjoy doing things with a paint brush and pencil, there were meetings planned, while for others who are interested in learning appreciation, trips were made to exhibits on the Duke Campus. Guest speakers were featured and the members have had presented to them types of work an art student may find in the war effort program.

This was a big year for the Ellen H. Richards Club as they celebrated the 100th anniversary of Ellen H. Richards by becoming members of the National Home Economics Club.

Mrs. Kenneth Clark gave a talk on "Women in Defense," and told the members things they could do to help win the war.

Every week the girls make bandages for the Red Cross. They are also making a quilt for one of the cottage beds out of scraps which have accumulated at the cottage.

Library Club

Adviser: MISS FLORINE LEWTER

If anyone should ask Miss Lewter, the librarian, the group that she considered the most valuable in the school according to the service rendered, she would immediately answer, "The Library Club."

The members of this club give unselfishly of their time and effort to help run library affairs and perform such routine duties as: circulation of books, shelving, checking mail, checking attendance, collecting fines and overdue books, arranging exhibits, typing, filing, and preparing new books for the shelves. Additional services consist of assistance in book selection and in locating reference material.

Not all time is given to work, for occasionally one of the meetings, held twice a month, is given over to social activities.

In December the club invited the Parent-Teachers' Association to the library for refreshments following one of the regular meetings. For this occasion, special exhibits of books were displayed.

These volunteer workers deserve a round of applause for the excellent work done for the library and the school.

Among the many clubs at Durham High School, perhaps the most outstanding is the Current Events Club. It claims as its adviser the best-loved teacher in the High School—"Ma" Gholson.

This club is concerned, as the name implies, with current news and its effects on the peoples of the world. At roll call each member answers with a current event, thus placing the most important news before the members.

The various programs of the club are composed of debates, orations, impromptu speeches, and quartet selections. Their special quartet is composed of Freeman Fulbright, Harry Marchant, J. H. Ingram, and Warren Pendergraft and is enjoyed by all.

Junior Auxiliary of the

Sponsors: MISS MARGUERITE M. HERR, MISS VIRGINIA HOBGOOD

The Junior Auxiliary of the Durham Needlework Guild this year gathered 1200 new, warm, and useful garments to help clothe underprivileged infants in the city and county; and gathered twenty-eight dollars in cash to add to the shoe fund of the Guild for the same purpose. This was the largest and best selected collection made by the Auxiliary in the twelve years of its history. The 560 girls working in circles of 10 under a director put forth greater effort to meet the demands of wartime emergencies.

The collection was exhibited on October 25 for the student body, and on October 29 at the Washington Duke Hotel with the display of the entire Guild.

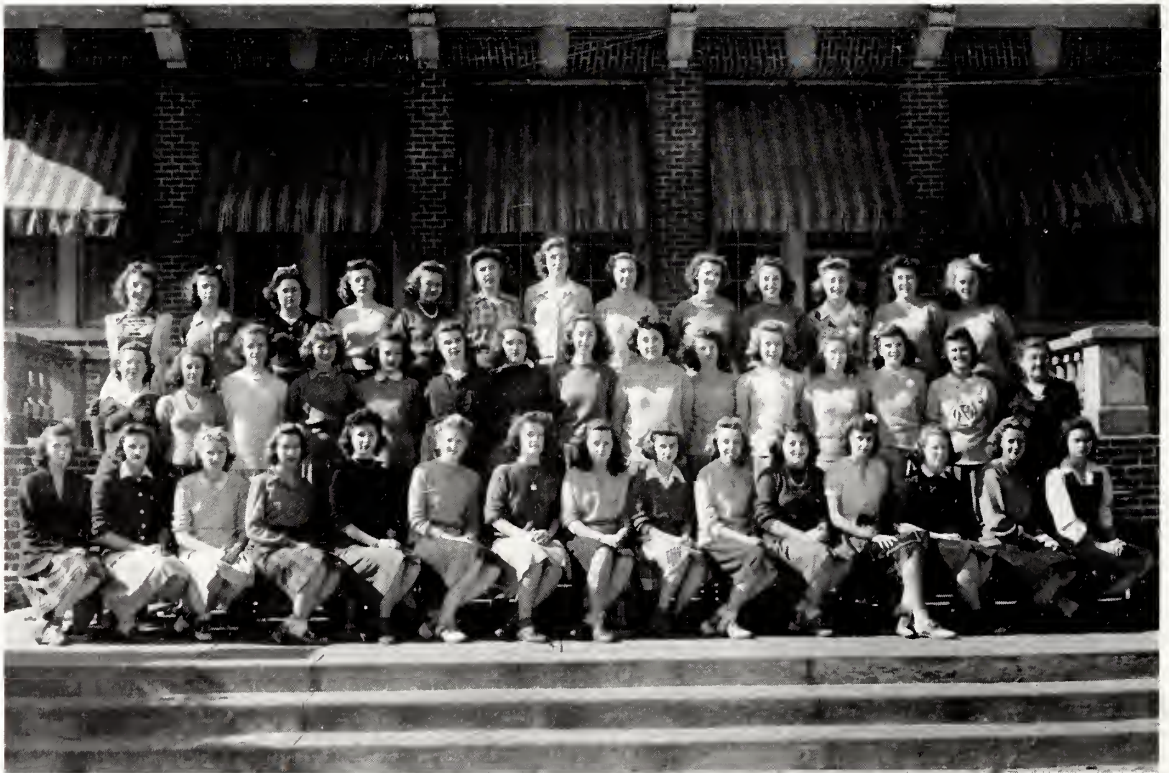

The high light of the year was the visit of that able consecrated leader, Miss Marion Halsey Stryker, national director of Junior Work. Her message revealed the sacredness, the value, and the possibilities of this volunteer charity and was forceful and inspiring. Miss Stryker met, informally, the members in the halls, in the home rooms, and at lunch. Each person who met her was impressed with her practical suggestions, her resourcefulness, and devotion to her work. Mrs. Wallace Seeman represented the Senior Guild.

At the organization meeting held in September, Betsy Buchanan, president, introduced the guest speakers from the Durham Guild, Mrs. W. F. Carr, Mrs. J. A. Speed, Mrs. W. C. Alexander, and Mrs. E. S. Toms, who presented the purpose of the Guild and the plans for the year. The Auxiliary officers and directors in a body attended the business meeting of the Durham branch held at the Y. W. C. A.

The directors on Awards Day were granted an engraved certificate of merit in leadership and service instead of the Guild pin, which is no longer manufactured by the Durham Needlework Guild.

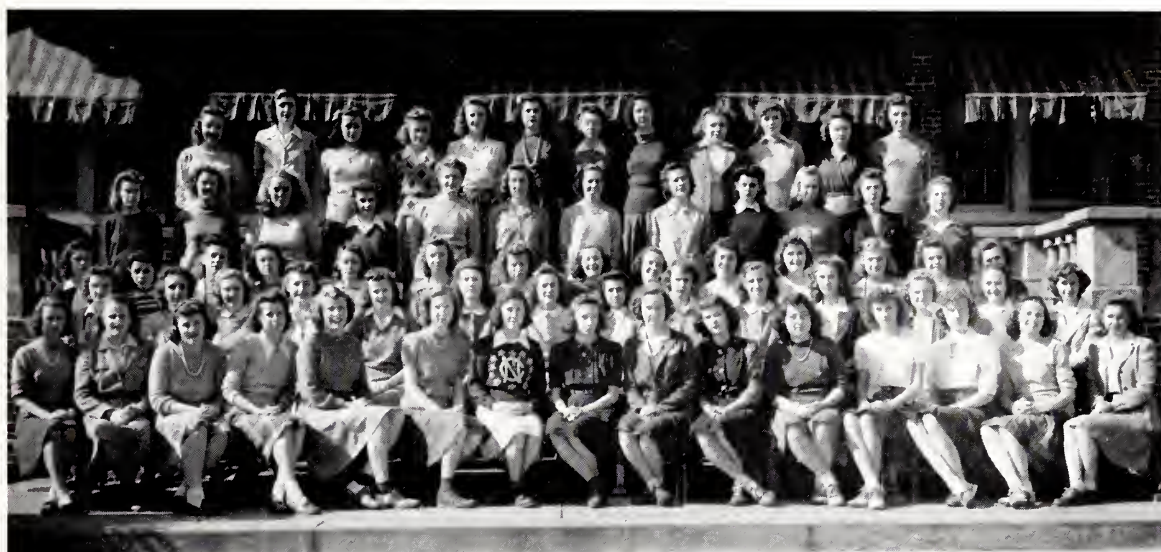

Officers for the current year: Betsy Buchanan, president; Marian Van Trine, first vice-president; Carolyn Hooper, Frances Carr, second vice-presidents; Dot Howerton, Anne Stapleford, co-secretaries; Margaret Lawrence, Irene Gooch, co-treasurers.

The Aviation Club, whose main purpose is to further interest and increase knowledge in aircraft, directed its attention this year toward furnishing Durham's quota of model war planes for government war purposes. The government supplied the group with blueprints of current airplanes of the belligerent powers, and requested that they build exact scale model replicas. These models are to be used for aiding gunners and spotters in the Army and Navy in recognizing friendly and enemy aircraft from a distance. The most precise standards had to be followed.

The club as a whole visited the Aircraft shop at East Durham Junior High School. There they made a study of wing construction, which proved very beneficial to their study of aeronautics.

The boys held exceedingly interesting meetings throughout the year. Several quiz programs were held, and a movie on aviation was shown at one of the meetings. Many articles on aviation were read and reported on.

Nature Study Club

Adviser: MISS DOROTHY WILSON

"Nature hath its charms." This proverb was well illustrated by the work of the Nature Study Club during the past year.

Each member took an active part in the programs, either by telling of their scientific experiments or by performing experiments before their colleague's eyes. The most interesting program of all was when each member lost a little blood, but it was nothing more serious than blood tests by two boys interested in that field.

Because of the war, no field trips were made. Lantern slides brought the flowers, birds, etc. to Durham High for observation. Projects were encouraged and directed by the adviser, Miss Wilson, and reports made at the meetings.

All of the programs were not strictly science and nature but contests and games were scattered throughout. The social high lights of the year were the two traditional picnics held in traditional manner.

Considering everything, this year's activities have been the most interesting in the history of the club.

The Carmichael Literary Society was without an adviser at the opening of school as Mr. J. R. Wood, last year's adviser, resigned from the faculty. Mr. Glenn Bunting, chemistry teacher, was the new adviser.

Among the boys who made up the society there were many musicians and singers, so many of the programs included solos and quartets, both instrumental and vocal.

Southgate Literary Society

Adviser: MISS BELLE HAMPTON

The James H. Southgate Literary Society, under the advisership of Miss Belle Hampton, started this year's activities with an initiation party in the lower gym. During the year regular meetings have been made interesting with quiz programs, musical programs, in which both vocal and instrumental numbers were rendered and programs of plays and recitations.

O. Henry Literary Society

Adviser: Miss LOUISE HORNER

Motto: "We go to seek on many roads."

Since Mrs. Aura Holton Goddard organized the O. Henry Literary Society in 1926 it has been increasing steadily. When Mrs. Goddard resigned as Adviser, Mrs. Swindell, now dean of girls at Junior High, succeeded her. In 1938 Miss Louise Horner became leader of the organization and it has rapidly developed in accomplishments and membership.

OFFICERS, seated: E. Mangum, Chaplain; M. James, Treasurer; V. Braswell, Treasurer; V. Council, Co-Vice-President; G. Carlton, President. Standing: J. Bowling, Secretary; E. Johnson, Secretary.

Adviser: MISS MARGUERITE M. HERR

By relating the work of the group towards the war effort of the school and among the members, the boys of the Walter Hines Page Literary Society rounded out another interesting year. Fellowship was more closely knit, ideals of action put into practice, and morale strengthened as the members united in the effort to become better informed, to train for intelligent and effective use of the English language, to discuss common problems, and to give or hear inspiring messages concerning the present crisis and the peace problems.

By common consent the initiation of candidates was fitted to the times, beginning with amusing tests of courage and endurance, and ending with a very impressive induction ceremony in which all joined.

Besides the talks, debates, declamations, readings and parliamentary drills given by the boys, outside speakers of note gave inspiring messages and timely instructions about preparation for armed service.

The high light of the year was the address of Rev. Richard Adams, of the First Baptist Church of Richmond, Va., who drew an effective analogy between the school and the army on the subject of compiling records of life.

Answering the call for eighteen-year-old registrants some boys who passed the examination for the V-1 Naval Reserves left for college as the semester ended. Tom Kerns, football captain; John Kerr, editor-in-chief of the Hi-Rocket; and Eric Johnson entered the University of North Carolina. Robert Lee Newton, chaplain of the society, went to Wake Forest College, and Charles Brame, president of the Page Literary Society and treasurer of the student body, entered the Alviene Dramatics School in New York City at the end of the second semester.

At the close of the year, the senior voted as having given the most outstanding service to the society and the school in three years had his name engraved on the Page cup. Last year Douglas Ausbon, now at Duke University, received that honor.

Spencer Literary Society

Adviser: MRS. H. A. SCHRODER

Trying to achieve high standards in literature, readings, and social activities has been the goal of the Cornelia Spencer Literary Society, the largest girls' society in the school, for the school year just past. The end of the first semester was celebrated by a delightful social held in the cafeteria after school.

Programs on interesting and varied subjects were presented throughout the year with the idea in mind to make use of the numerous talents of its members. Mrs. Owen F. Herring, well known to and beloved by Cornelia Spencer girls, was the outstanding speaker of the year, using the title, "I Dare You," as the theme.

According to custom, the society awarded a medal to the girl who had done the best all-around work during the year. As usual, interest was taken by Spencer girls in the Woman's Club Reading Contest, which is held every year during commencement.

Blackwell Literary Society

Adviser: C. E. MEYER

The members of the Blackwell Literary Society have just completed a year filled with varied activities under the leadership of Jake Woodall, president, and Mr. C. E. Meyer, adviser. The society successfully has tried to achieve high standards in literature, social activities, and education.

An initiation party, which was held at Durham High, inaugurated a colorful year for the members, old and new. This was only the beginning of events that were to be lasting in the mind of each one present. The boys highlighted their social service for the year by preparing a Christmas basket for a needy family.

One of the most memorable years in the history of the society was brought to a close by a cabin party at Camp Sacarusa. Recreation, consisting of horseshoe pitching, badminton, and numerous other sports entertained the members and their dates. Phonograph records provided music for those who wanted to dance.

Each year there is given to the most valuable member an honor. After he is voted by the boys, his name is engraved on the Blackwell Memorial Plaque.

Adviser: MISS LOUISE WATKINS

The Brogden Society, organized in October 1926, was named for Mrs. Lila Markham Brogden who was a former Latin teacher at Durham High and for many years was president of the Woman's Club and an outstanding leader in Durham's social and civic life.

This society strives for the development of each of its members. Our aim is that each girl shall demonstrate the truth of its motto:

“The Truth Shall Make You Free.”

W. G. WHICHARD
Adviser

Under the leadership of its former adviser, Mr. W. G. Whichard, the Carr Literary Society made an effort to promote the war program as well as to develop the speaking ability of its members. The programs were made up not only of speeches and debates, but also studies of army insinias as well. The main high light of the year was the annual banquet held at the High School. Beginning this year a key is to be given to the most valuable member of the Society.

Athena Literary Society

MISS VIRGINIA HOBGOOD
Adviser

Holding its meeting semi-monthly, the Athena Society with its adviser, Miss Virginia Hobgood, emphasized subjects of literary value, in which all members participated.

Interesting and varied programs were planned for each meeting and were of benefit to every member.

Socials were also held frequently. At one big affair near the beginning of the school year, a party was held and forty-five pledges were made members.

OFFICERS: M. Porter, L. Taylor, M. Sink, M. Plowden, V. Powell, M. Conway, N. Whitworth.

Durham High School

Physical Education

Coaches: Baucom, Holt, Brown, Stewart, Leitner, Hester, Sykes, deBruyne.

The Physical Education Department of the Durham High School, with limited personnel, is making a vital contribution to the war effort.

Through its well-rounded sports program the boys and girls are being trained to be physically fit for the great tasks that lie ahead. Not only is it important to build the body but also to strengthen the mind as well by taking the orders given. Platoon drill has been participated in by both boys and girls, as has running the obstacle course. All boys have had regular army examinations and are now taking gym four times a week.

The athletic program is open to all those who wish to participate and many take advantage of the opportunity. The swimming pool has recently been opened to provide the boys, who are leaving for service, an opportunity to improve their swimming ability.

Under the careful guidance of Mr. Sykes, Mr. Hester, Mr. Baucom, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Holt, Miss Brown, and Miss Leitner, the students have benefited by all phases of the athletic curriculum.

Football

First row: W. McDonald, H. Horn, E. C. Harris, L. Brogden, W. Suitt, H. Schroder, D. Mitchell, B. McCutcheon, J. Duhling, D. McAllister, C. Garrell, and S. Smith. Second row: B. Oliver, Mgr., B. Henderson, Mgr., J. T. Freeman, E. Wilkins, W. Stewart, C. Wright, H. D. Sykes, co-captain, J. H. Ingram, A. Baggett, B. Germain, T. Rasberry, G. Whitted, F. Isaacs, T. Upchurch, C. Brewer, J. R. Coggins, S. Credle, and Francis Morgan, Mgr. Third row: N. Warren, coach, T. Kerns, co-captain, G. Diggins, J. Rattelade, R. Barnes, F. Garrard, E. Credle, P. Whetstone, L. Noble, B. Weldon, E. Ligon, T. Fowler, D. Chesson, T. Hodnett, K. Raud, F. Pierson, L. Bowling, and P. Sykes, coach.

Durham High School's Bulldogs of Football were first off just about as easy as any athletic team in "Dear Old D. H. S." because of the present war transportation difficulties. Of course, they spent quite a few days (and nights) riding in day coaches and sleeping on train station floors, but football players are supposed to be tough so you didn't hear any complaining coming from those boys.

Although the Bulldogs had only a .500 percentage in the total of all their games, they had a very good .800 percentage in Eastern Conference play. The boys opened with a victory over a strong Hillsboro High team. The second game resulted in a 3-0 setback at the hands of a powerful Oxford Orphanage eleven. The Bulldogs lost three more games to non-conference foes. They lost close ones to Greensboro, High Point, and the Commodores of Maury High in Norfolk.

The only conference foe who succeeded in knocking off the Bulldogs was the powerful Cyclone eleven of Wilson High School. The Bulldog eleven defeated the four remaining Conference teams, with the most welcomed victory being over the annual rival, Raleigh High School. The other three Conference teams which Durham defeated were Fayetteville, Rocky Mount, and Wilmington.

Durham had one of the lightest teams ever to come out of the school. There was no boy on the first string who weighed over 175 pounds. Although the team was green and inexperienced most of the boys had a better spirit than has been seen around this school in many a year. Coach Seaton Holt did much to bring about this spirit in the boys and much credit goes to him for the showing of the boys on the gridiron this past year.

Basketball

Loftis, Saunders, Rhodes, Hardee, Barnes, Wilson, Smith, Carlton, Whetstone, Earp, Browning, Miles, Fowler, Rand, and Levy.

Durham High's Bulldogs relinquished their hold on the State Scholastic basketball title this year for the first time in six seasons. After capturing the Eastern Conference Class "A" title from Wilmington's Wildcats in a play-off series, the locals, coached by Paul G. Sykes, dropped a hotly contested decision to the High Point Black Bisons by the score of 37 to 34 in Chapel Hill for the state title.

The Bulldogs, sparked by the play of co-captains Malcolm Earp and Raymond Barnes, captured 12 out of 16 starts during the season for a won-lost percentage of .750.

New Hanover High School of Wilmington stopped the locals' Conference winning streak at 56 consecutive victories "down by the sea" when they knocked off the Bulldogs by the score of 30 to 25. Durham later came back to polish off the Wildcats twice in a row, however, to win the Eastern title for the sixth straight year.

COACH HOLT

Track

First row: M. Yarbrough, L. Wilkins, C. Tomlinson, F. Rhodes, S. Susman, B. Wentz, B. Kerr, C. Brewer, G. Whitted, H. Miles.
Second row: E. Ezzell, C. Woods, H. Shaw, A. Wilson, H. Sykes, P. Whitaker, S. Lucas, E. Tilley, R. Rogers, Coach Baucom.
Third row: B. Ornoff, A. Katz, R. Barnes, T. Fowler, P. Ferrell, P. Hardee, J. Parnag, D. Goodwin.

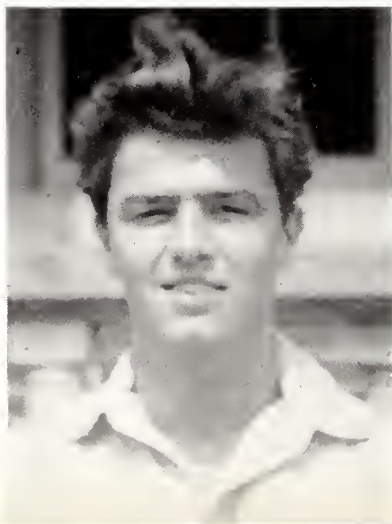

Durham High's track team with only three lettermen from last year's team came through by taking top honors in the state meet held on May first. The Durham High boys placed in 12 of the 14 events. The boys from Durham chalked up 54 1/5 points against their six foes.

Coach C. R. Baucom and his crew of green members have proved themselves very worthy of praise. This is Durham High's first state title since 1938. Tommy Fowler, one of the lettermen from last year, is the captain of the track crew. Charles Brewer was high scorer for Durham with 8 points.

Boys taking first place were: Stewart, Sykes, Bullock, Brewer, Barnes.

CAPTAIN FOWLER

COACH BAUCOM

Tennis

Standing: D. Ross, T. Fowler, A. Katz, P. Hardee, R. Green, H. Miles, B. Hamilton, D. O'Briant, J. Pickett, Coach Sykes
Seated: J. Allen, B. Rigsbee, L. Walton, W. Lyon, F. Webster, R. Baldwin, D. Moss.

Durham High's tennis team, coached by Paul Sykes and captained by Judson Pickett, was scheduled to enter the State Scholastic Tennis Tournament to be held in Winston-Salem on May 13th and 14th.

Four lettermen formed the basis of Sykes' entry. Besides Pickett, Tommy Fowler, Don

Ross, and Manager Joe Allen earned their awards during 1942.

The Scholastic Tournament was the only meet carded for the local netters at the beginning of their season. Like baseball, track, and other spring sports, the court team got off to a slow start.

CAPTAIN PICKETT

COACH SYKES

Golf

GOLF TEAM: D. Dezern, R. Greene, B. Barnes, H. Helms, B. Wingate, Mr. Hester, P. Browning, D. Price.

Golf was hard hit at Durham High this year, getting off to a late start, as did all other spring sports, and also being plagued with a dearth of experienced material.

Only one linksman with any previous experience returned to Coach Ernest C. Hester this spring. Roy Greene, who also captured the intramural title last year, was the only letterman Hester had to build a team on.

Despite this dearth, however, Mr. Hester entered his golfers in the State Scholastic links meet which was held in High Point on May 20-21.

CAPTAIN GREENE

COACH HESTER

Intramurals

Coach Sykes, Z. Downey, C. Brewer, J. Cobb, S. Lucas, R. O'Steen, R. Rogers, J. Woodall, J. Coggins, Earl Peed.

Intramural athletics received an added impetus from the nation's war effort this year and the Durham High Athletic Department, headed by Paul G. Sykes, moved forward with the rest of the nation.

Possibly more changes were made in the local athletic system than ever before in history. Sykes instituted platoon drilling, added calisthenics, first aid, constructed a regulation Navy obstacle course, and also carried on the same intensive program of basketball, track, and wrestling among the boys gym classes.

One entire auditorium period was given over to Sykes' department at which time the four best platoons marched in review and Dr. Cornwall from the University of North Carolina Physical Education Department spoke. J. R. Coggins and Charlie Brewer were adjudged to command the two top platoons.

Another feature of the program was the basketball championship play-off. "Carolina," captained by Frankie Webster, defeated "Georgia," of which Jimmy Cobb was leader, by a score of 26-24 in the finals.

The track program instituted by Sykes reached more than 400 boys in the 10 gym classes. Finals were run off in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard run, 400-yard run, high jump, half-mile, broad jump, and mile.

B. G. Stewart, who coached Durham High wrestlers before the inter-scholastic program was dropped two years ago, staged an intramural wrestling program which reached half-a-hundred men. Finals in the various weight divisions were held and medals awarded to the winners.

Boys Platoons

All boys able to take physical exercise participate in vigorous military drill.

Boys Monogram Club

Durham High's Monogram Club was not organized until the latter half of the year and the school's lettermen were not able to accomplish much during the short period the club existed.

Malcolm Earp, a two-letter man in basketball and baseball, was elected president of the club, of which Paul G. Sykes is adviser, with Elwood "Cotton" Ligon, vice-president; Teddy Rasberry, secretary; Donald Ross, treasurer; and Hall Miles, chaplain.

OFFICERS: E. Ligon, Vice-President; H. Miles, Chaplain; T. Rasberry, Secretary; D. Ross, Treasurer; M. Earp, President.

MEMBERS: First row: C. Wright, D. Ross, B. McCatchoon, G. Warran, T. Powell, A. Wilson, S. Lucas. Second row: B. Henderson, G. Whitted, C. Brewer, H. D. Sykes, J. H. Ingram, J. Pickett, D. Moss, Mr. Sykes. Third row: K. Rand, F. Garrard, R. Barnes, R. Greene, L. Carlton, H. Miles, B. Weldon, T. Rasberry.

Girls Athletic Association

OFFICERS: E. R. Parrish, R. Holloway, M. Haines, C. Eubanks, B. Buchanan, Miss Leitner, E. Eubanks, A. Earp, M. Van Trine, J. Topham.

The Girls Athletic Association has long been an outstanding feature of Durham High School. It is one of the most democratic organizations in the school and has a membership of more than one hundred girls. It provides activity for hundreds of girls through its intramural program of various sports. Basketball is probably the most popular sport among the girls. Badminton, tennis, volleyball, softball, and deck tennis are next in popularity. The girls are qualified for membership in the club after earning seventy-five points by participating in these sports.

Each year the G. A. A. year is climaxed by an annual banquet. At this banquet awards are given and the officers are announced for the coming year.

Girls Monogram Club

The Girls Monogram Club is an honorary organization for girls who have earned two hundred quality points by engaging in various sports and athletic events. Further points bring additional rewards in the shape of stars and letters. Its members represent the spirit of fair play and good sportsmanship for they know "it's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game" that counts.

Cheer leaders are a most important factor at football games, and other sports. Without them to lead the fans in all the stirring yells, the team would feel let down and give up any hope of winning. Their gyrations and stunts fill the audience and the team with enthusiasm and hope. All of the various yells add color to a sport, and without them, any game would be a faded picture of despair.

Rationing

First row: E. Moore, V. Braswell, J. Bowling, V. Tilley, M. Jones, P. Matbes, V. Council, A. Wilson. Second row: E. Mangum, M. James, M. Lawrence, V. Pickett, D. Hoffer, F. Adcock, R. Wall, L. One of Durham High School's greatest contributions to the war effort this year was their part in the rationing program. The Commercial Department was called upon on two occasions to ration fuel oil, first in January and again in April.

On the first occasion approximately 4,000 blanks were filled out, and on the last occasion this figure was raised to 12,000, and the envelopes typed. Assisting in this work were students taking commercial subjects and students having a high scholastic average.

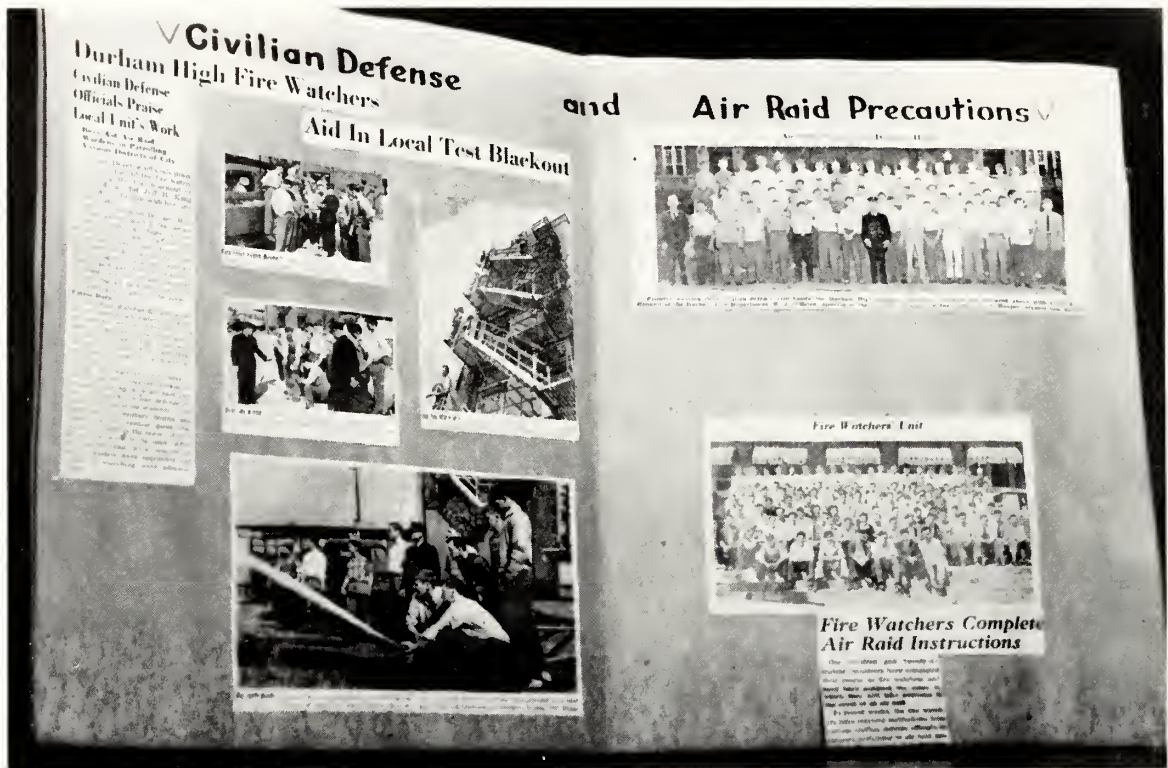

In the first rationing, filling out blanks and typing envelopes was only a part of the process of rationing. Each student, who was helping, counted ration coupons, prepared the validating stamps, and recorded on a single sheet all they had done. The second rationing program was very much the same except the students worked in groups of five rather than individually.

This was under the supervision of Miss Ethel M. Solloway, head of the Commercial Department, assisted by the other commercial teachers.

On several other occasions, the faculty of Durham High was called on to help in the rationing of sugar and gasoline. This rationing was done after school hours and by all the teachers.

Civilian Defense

Durham High's All-Out-for-Victory Campaign to collect scrap netted 90,000 pounds of metal, rubber, paper, and tin cans, thereby exceeding by 30,000 pounds the expectations of Mr. B. G. Stewart, director of the drive in Durham High.

In order to encourage the salvaging of scrap, a plan was organized along the line of Harold Gray's comic strip, "Little Orphan Annie." This system gave each person turning in over ten pounds a rank, these ranks being based on those of the Army. They range from a Private to a General, turning in ten and five thousand pounds, respectively.

The homeroom turning in the most scrap was 4A7 with approximately 20,000 pounds. 4A8 came in second with 15,000 pounds. 5A8 led in the tin can collection with a total of 6,000 cans.

Pat Muirhead turned in the most for the individual with 17,765 pounds of scrap. Walter Perry came in second with 14,746.

Sale of War Stamps

This year members of the Hi-Y Club have made a notable contribution to the war effort by selling war stamps and bonds during activity and lunch periods. To create an interest among the students and faculty, a unique booth in which to sell the stamps was arranged in front of the school office. In the background of this booth was a poster picturing the popular army jeep, which has been used so much in sponsoring stamp and bond sales throughout this nation. The plan of the club was to sell enough stamps and bonds to buy a jeep and various other war weapons for our country.

Each club member has served loyally and sacrificially in this campaign with the hope that his small part would be a strong link in the chain of victory for the Allied Nations.

Contributions

“This morning we have been asked to make a contribution to. . . .” These words of the teacher are familiar to all students by the time they reach the high school. Due to the war these words are heard even more frequently. Durham High has provided ample opportunity for the students to share in the running of the war. In turn, the students are planning and carrying out various campaigns, among them the War Bond drive.

The Chinese War Relief was the newest cause this year, and therefore, probably, was less publicized than the others. This may account for the fact that only $12.43 was gleaned from the students' pockets. This year the call of the Community Fund was more urgent than ever before, due to the number of agencies that are closely connected with the war effort receiving aid from the fund. The cash contributions of the teachers surpassed those of the students; the quantities are, respectively, $137.50 and $122.17. The teachers also pledged a sum of $66.50.

There are two funds whose receipts are used to heal sick bodies. These are the March of Dimes for polio and The Christmas Seal Campaign for tuberculosis. Their high-school contributions this year amounted, respectively, to $37.99 and $61.45.

The Durham High students give their money readily, ever eager to help a good cause. You may be sure that Durham High is doing its part to win the war.

Parkerson, R. Rogers.

Life in Durham High would at times be a drab existence without the ever-watchful hall patrol. The hall patrol, composed of members of the Student Council, is very important in the school. Everyone is familiar with their slogan, "Have a ticket?"

This year has been a year of activity for the patrol. They took a definite step forward by taking over responsibilities of the lunch lines. Members of the lunch-line patrol meet the homerooms and lead them at the proper time to their places. The plan has proven to be very successful.

Two medals are to be given to the two most efficient members of the patrol this year. Each member holds the medal as his goal and strives to work harder for it.

Under the supervision of Ralph Rogers and Don Ross this year the patrol struck a new high.

Banking's Role In the War Effort

The American Banking industry is not alone in supporting the war effort with every facility at its command. Whole-hearted cooperation is typical of most every business, of most every individual.

We count it a privilege to be able to help. Every loan made for war and civilian purposes, every Government security we buy, every War Bond we sell, every service we offer which enables business and individuals to conduct their affairs more efficiently—every opportunity we have of serving is accepted gladly.

Banking's role in the war effort is that of a volunteer proud to be of assistance to our nation, its institutions, its citizenry, and our fighting allies.
